SOLDIER'S LETTER

Irvin Morris Writes That He is in Touch With The Boches.

Somewhere in France, Feb. 18, 1918.

Dear J. R.:

Your letter of January 4th, was nearly a month in transport. However that made it all the more appreciated. Letters from the states are rare as blue goldfish and we read them over and over again.

Well, son, I have been going about quite a bit since the last letter to the states. The British took me into the line some months ago, and then the Americans went into line. I was with the first American outfit that took over the line from the French and we had been there only twelve hours when we let the Boche know what was going on. But speaking of being first, reminds me to say that the Company I am now with was the first one to land on French soil. Not only that, the first American Private to set foot on the soil of France is now acting as my orderly. Talk about history—all I have to do is buy a pencil and write it.

"I gotta get the old forty winks tonight, so I will leave it with you. Regards to the wife, best wishes to you. Let me hear from you real soon.

As ever your friend,
L. I. Morris,
Lieut. 28th Infantry.

Death of a Child.

Nettie Page, the five year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Page, died about 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at the home on Broadway, after a brief illness. The child went into a spasm Tuesday and never recovered.

The funeral will be held from the home this afternoon.

"Brown From Pickletown"

War Address.

The people of Lexington will have the unusual opportunity of hearing an address by Sergeant Major A. E. Lowery of Toronto, Canada, late of the Canadian Expeditionary Forces. This man enlisted on the fourth day after the war broke out, August 8, 1914, and has been through the horrors of shell fire, gas attacks, and the other experiences incident to going over the top.

This address will be delivered at the Christian Church, Monday evening, March 25, at 7:30. Sergeant Major Lowery is sent to Lexington by the War Savings Committee for Missouri, and there will be no charges for admission.

Capt. and Mrs. Ryland Todhunter went to Kansas City Monday to spend the day.

For Presiding Judge.

C. L. Glasscock's hat is in the ring for the Democrat nomination for presiding judge of the county court. He announces his candidacy in this issue of The Intelligencer and respectfully solicits a fair consideration by the democratic voters of the county.

Mr. Glasscock was elected and served two terms as clerk of the county court and never missed a session of the court during that time. He took an active interest in the court's proceedings and deliberations and gave splendid satisfaction to the general public. He is thoroughly conversant with every phase of the county's business, which would be to the advantage to the taxpayers if Mr. Glasscock is elevated to the judgeship.
